STOCK REPORT

New York, May 4 (AP).—Gold stocks twinkled a bit against a generally dull market background today. A struggling retreat among industrials followed the previous session's rally as buying interest waned. Traders bought gold shares on news the French had started negotiations with the United States and England for revision of the tripartite monetary accord of 1936 for stabilization of exchange rates, apparently on the assumption the parity might result in a higher price for the yellow metal, at least in France.

PAST GRANTS TO MEET

The May meeting of the Past Grands' Association, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will be held Thursday evening with York Springs lodge, No. 211, York Springs as host.

MOISTURE MAIN NEED OF CROPS

Philadelphia, May 4 (AP).—The weather bureau's first weekly report this season on crop conditions in Pennsylvania, issued today, stated that "it is now becoming apparent that the frosts of April caused considerable damage to orchard fruits in the southwestern part of the state."

"Tender garden vegetables were frozen and berries suffered severely in some places," the report stated. "Peaches were hardest hit, being killed in some localities. Pears and plums were badly damaged in some regions, but not so extensively as were the peaches."

Apples were not so far advanced, and suffered least of all of the orchard fruits.

"In the south-central and south-eastern counties the damage to fruits was generally unimportant, while the northern part of the state was not harmed."

"The rainfall for the week was generally light, and the top soil is needing moisture in many regions. Vegetation has not suffered permanent damage, and in fact most things are looking good, but the condition is such that the growth would be speeded up if the moisture were to be supplied. The lack of moisture is most important in the pastures, many of which are slow and backward."

Pope Terms 'Untimely' Display Of Swastikas on Holy Cross Day

Vatican City, May 4 (AP).—Pope Pius was quoted by L'Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper, as saying at Castel Gandolfo today that it was "a sad thing" that the insignia of another cross that is not the cross of Christ "was hoisted in Rome on Holy Cross Day."

Tuesday was Holy Cross Day. It coincided with the arrival in Rome of Adolf Hitler, in whose honor the city was blanketed with the Swastika, the Nazi emblem.

The Vatican organ said the Pope beseeched a group of newlyweds to be faithful to Christian life and prayer, "since sad things are happening, very sad things, far and near."

"And among these sad things," he continued, "is this: That it is not considered exceedingly out of place and untimely to hoist in Rome on Holy Cross Day the insignia of another cross that is not the cross of Christ."

"All this is enough to make people understand how much it is necessary to pray, pray and pray that God's mercy be shown and descend in all its greatness."

"We are in fact the first to have need of this infinite mercy of God, which has been extended from the beginning even to those who crucified our Saviour."

(Pope Pius went to his summer place at Castel Gandolfo, 17 miles from Rome, on April 30, three days before Hitler's arrival in Rome.)

Woman's League of College Names Mrs. Idle President At Indoor Garden Party

The local chapter of the Woman's League of Gettysburg college brought its current year to a close Tuesday afternoon with a meeting in the form of an indoor garden party held in the social rooms of Christ Lutheran church.

The entire setting was suggestive of an out-of-door party, flowers having been arranged in such a manner as to suggest a garden. Lawn furniture was placed about the rooms and a large lawn umbrella provided the "shade" from the imaginary summer sun. Lattice work, intertwined with vines and flowers, made a background for the decorations.

The feature of the program was the election of officers. Mrs. Dunning Idle was elected president to succeed Mrs. Lester O. Johnson. Other officers elected were: Vice presidents,

Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. George R. Lar-kin, Mrs. George N. Waters, Mrs. E. F. Strausbaugh, Mrs. W. Preston Hull, Mrs. Spencer W. Aungst and Mrs. C. Ross Shuman; recording secretary, Mrs. Henry T. Bream; treasurer, Mrs. M. Hadwin Fischer, and statistical secretary, Mrs. John G. Glenn.

Mrs. Charles F. Sanders reported for the nominating committee, the other members of which were Mrs. C. Paul Cessna, Mrs. Guile W. Le-fever, Mrs. Chester N. Gilt and Mrs. Norman W. Storick.

The program consisted of a group of vocal solos by Miss Anna Grimm, accompanied on the piano by Miss Eva Sachs. She sang three spring songs, "The Lark," by Rubenstein, "May Day," by Robert Franz, and "May Time Air," by Johann Strauss. Prof. W. Frederick Shaffer played four piano preludes by Chopin, following which Dr. Richard Arms read from four of the year's successful plays. They were the Pulitzer prize winner, "Our Town," "Of Mice and Men," "Star Wagon" and "Golden Boy."

BARD MAY DELAY 44-HOUR APPEAL

SETTLES ASSAULT CHARGE

Paul Kipple, Reading, was arrested about 1 o'clock this morning at the American restaurant, Chambersburg street, by Borough Officer Glenn Guise on a charge of assault and battery which was filed before Justice of the Peace John C. Shealer by Chris Mitchell, restaurant proprietor. A settlement was reached at a hearing before the justice and Kipple was released after paying the costs of the case.

Harrisburg, May 4 (AP).—Attorney General Guy K. Bard, in office less than a week, said today he had been informed that opponents of the 44-hour-week law would raise no objections to a continuance of the argument, scheduled by the state Supreme court for Monday at Philadelphia.

Bard said if the case with its voluminous testimony taken over many weeks would not be continued "the show will go on" and he would take the necessary steps to defend the law.

Edward Friedman, deputy to Charles J. Margiotti, had handled the case until both were dismissed by Governor Earle in a dispute over campaign charges last Wednesday.

Bard said he would confer by telephone with Chief Justice John W. Kephart sometime today.

"I will tell him that the other side said it would not object to a continuance," the attorney general said. "I'm not asking for a continuance and if one is not granted the show will go on."

The act of 1937 was attacked in separate actions. One, started by Holgate Brothers of Kane, brought hundreds of intervenors objecting that the law worked a hardship on them. A taxpayer's suit was filed and Judge W. C. Sheely, of Gettysburg, sitting in the Dauphin county court, ruled the act unconstitutional and prohibited the state from enforcing it until a final decision in the higher court.

HELD ON ASSAULT COUNT
Lloyd "Chug" Shultz, South Washington street, was arrested Tuesday night by Borough Officer Glenn Guise on a charge of assault and battery lodged before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore by William Yingling, also of South Washington street. A hearing is to be held in the case this evening at 8 o'clock before the local justice.

Mr. Guise, who was elected last fall for a four-year term, was fatally injured in an automobile accident on Sunday, April 10, on the National highway near Zanesville, Ohio. The same crash claimed the lives of his son, Dale, and the latter's wife, Mrs. Gladys Durboraw Guise, both of Gettysburg.

This afternoon the commissioners inspected properties along the Lincoln highway east of here in connection with damage claims that have been filed by owners.

Milk Control Commission Is Granted Feeder Order

The Pennsylvania Milk Control commission advanced their fight to secure an injunction against C. A. Feeser, proprietor of the Sanitary Dairy, near Hanover, in Conewago township, when an order was signed by Prothonotary C. Arthur Brame in common pleas court, decreeing that the bill in equity against Feeser be taken "pro confesso" (by confession) for failing to enter either an appearance or an answer to the original complaint.

The order was issued in response to a paper filed by George M. Walter, Esq., local associate counsel of Gilbert S. Parnell, special deputy attorney general who is handling the case against Feeser.

The Conewago township dairyman was in court here last year in a similar suit that later was dropped when the current action was instituted. The bill of complaint alleges that Feeser has ignored commission orders and has continued to conduct his business without a state permit.

The trouble between Feeser and the milk commission is reported to have originated over questions concerning the retail prices charged by Feeser for his goods. He is said to have undersold fixed prices for this area.

Vatican City, May 4 (AP)—Pope Pius was quoted by L'Observateur Romano, the Vatican newspaper, as saying at Castel Gandolfo today that it was "a sad thing" that the insignia of another cross that is not the cross of Christ "was hoisted in Rome on Holy Cross Day."

Tuesday was Holy Cross Day. It coincided with the arrival in Rome of Adolf Hitler, in whose honor the city was blanketed with the Swastika, the Nazi emblem.

The Vatican organ said the Pope beseeched a group of newlyweds to be faithful to Christian life and prayer, "since sad things are happening, very sad things, far and near."

"And among these sad things," he

Woman's League of College Names Mrs. Idle President At Indoor Garden Party

The local chapter of the Woman's League of Gettysburg college brought its current year to a close Tuesday afternoon with a meeting in the form of an indoor garden party held in the social rooms of Christ Lutheran church.

The entire setting was suggestive of an out-of-door party, flowers having been arranged in such a manner as to suggest a garden. Lawn furniture was placed about the rooms and a large lawn umbrella provided the "shade" from the imaginary summer sun. Lattice work, intertwined with vines and flowers, made a background for the decorations.

Frederick Shaffer played four piano preludes by Chopin, following which Dr. Richard Arms read from four of the year's successful plays. They were the Pulitzer prize winner, "Our Town," "Of Mice and Men," "Star Wagon" and "Golden Boy."

BARD MAY DELAY 44-HOUR APPEAL

Harrisburg, May 4 (AP)—Attorney General Guy K. Bard, in office less than a week, said today he had been informed that opponents of the 44-hour-week law would raise no objections to a continuance of the argument scheduled by the state Supreme court for Monday at Philadelphia.

Bard said if the case with its voluminous testimony taken over many weeks would not be continued "the show will go on" and he would take the necessary steps to defend the law.

Edward Friedman, deputy to Charles J. Margiotti, had handled the case until both were dismissed by Governor Earle in a dispute over campaign charges last Wednesday.

Bard said he would confer by telephone with Chief Justice John W. Kephart sometime today.

"I will tell him that the other side said it would not object to a continuance," the attorney general said. "I'm not asking for a continuance and if one is not granted the show will go on."

The act of 1937 was attacked in separate actions. One, started by Holgate Brothers of Kane, brought hundreds of intervenors objecting that the law worked a hardship on them. A taxpayer's suit was filed and Judge W. C. Sheely, of Gettysburg, sitting in the Dauphin county court, ruled the act unconstitutional and prohibited the state from enforcing it until a final decision in the higher court.

NAME SHEELY TAX COLLECTOR

Milk Control Commission Is Granted Feeder Order

The Pennsylvania Milk Control commission advanced their fight to secure an injunction against C. A. Feeser, proprietor of the Sanitary Dairy, near Hanover, in Conewago township, when an order was signed by Prothonotary C. Arthur Brame in common pleas court decreeing that the bill in equity against Feeser be taken "pro confesso" (by confession) for failing to enter either an appearance or an answer to the original complaint.

The order was issued in response to a paper filed by George M. Walter, Esq., local associate counsel of Gilbert S. Parnell, special deputy attorney general who is handling the case against Feeser.

The Conewago township dairyman was in court here last year in a similar suit that later was dropped when the current action was instituted. The bill of complaint alleges that Feeser has ignored commission orders and has continued to conduct his business without a state permit.

The trouble between Feeser and the milk commission is reported to have originated over questions concerning the retail prices charged by Feeser for his goods. He is said to have undersold fixed prices for this area.

HANOVERIAN, 18, KILLED BY CRASH NEAR HAMPTON; GIRL, 17, INJURED

Quintin C. Alwood, 18, Hanover high school athlete, was fatally injured Tuesday evening in an automobile accident a mile and a half south of Hampton on the Hanover-Carlisle road. The accident occurred about 7 o'clock and Alwood, a high school senior, died at 10:20 o'clock in the Hanover General hospital without regaining consciousness.

The youth, who was the only son of Ralph and Louise (Klick) Alwood, 343 High street, Hanover, was a passenger in a car operated by Miss Corrine Culp, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Earl Culp, 549 Carlisle street, Hanover. Miss Culp is reported to be in a serious condition in the Hanover hospital. She suffered a fracture of the skull, lacerations of the scalp and severe shock. T. Earl Culp, father of the injured girl, is a native of Gettysburg.

Officers J. P. Monaghan and Clayton Hamburger, of the local substation of the state motor police, who investigated the crash, said they were unable to learn details of the manner in which the accident had occurred. No witnesses were found and Miss Culp's condition did not permit questioning Tuesday evening.

Miss Culp is reported to have been driving south when the 1936 model light coach, which was owned by her father, ran off the right side of the highway and struck a concrete abutment. The force of the collision drove the motor of the car back under the front seat. The car was demolished. The wreckage was towed to a Hampton garage.

The young couple is said to have been attending a wiener roast along Conewago creek. They had driven to Hampton to buy additional frankfurters and were making the return trip when the crash occurred.

L. Edward Zech, acting York county coroner, signed the certificate attributing death to a fractured skull, hemorrhage and shock. The acting coroner then turned the case over to Dr. Edgar A. Miller, of Gettysburg, Adams county coroner, inasmuch as the accident occurred in this county.

Doctor Miller said this afternoon he expects to conduct an inquest later into the fatal accident. No date has been set.

Young Alwood is survived by his parents, at home, and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alwood, Harrisburg.

WAGNER ACT IS CALLED Foe OF BUSINESS PEACE

Washington, May 4 (AP)—William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors corporation, told the United States Chamber of Commerce today that the Wagner labor act is "the largest drawback to good industrial relations."

Discussing the strikes that have tied up his company's plants at various times in recent months, Knudsen said in a prepared address:

"The National Labor relations board set up to administer the act makes no pretense even of paying any attention to the employer's side of the case."

"He can only be heard when he is summoned, and he knows before he goes that there is no record of a single decision where he has had a ghost of a show or what!"

"The automobile manufacturer's speech renewed an attack on the labor board that started Tuesday when Senator Burke (D-Neb.), addressing the labor session of the Chamber of Commerce convention, demanded that the members of the labor board resign. He proposed that a new board be appointed to represent the viewpoints of labor, management and the public."

The labor session then adopted a resolution asking an investigation by Congress of the "effects" and administration of the Wagner act.

A resolution asking amendment of the Wagner Act to require registration of labor organizations was adopted Tuesday night by representatives of seven unaffiliated unions, in session here. Publication of union financing also was asked.

Frank Bow, counsel for the Republic Steel corporation, said the meeting was attended by representatives of employe organizations in Republic Steel, H. J. Heinz company, Duquesne Light and Power, Remington Rand Inc., Jones and Laughlin corporation, Pressed Steel Car company, and National Steel corporation.

Knudsen in his speech, expressed the belief business is not discouraged, "despite all that is said" against it.

Attacks Use of Signs On Highways of State

Pittsburgh, May 4 (AP)—Mrs. John M. Phillips, retiring president, told the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women's convention today that efforts to educate Pennsylvania motorists through the use of highway signboards implies the state has a "super-morose" citizenry.

Reviewing the federation's campaign against "signic highways" in her annual report at the opening of the three-day convention, she said:

"Highway laws and penalties for their breaking surely can be impressed upon automobile drivers with the issuance of licenses, and the insistence on rules obeyed rather than by huge highway signs with a painted police officer as a warning."

Officers Nominated

Pittsburgh, May 4 (AP)—Mrs. P. Earle Magee, of Oil City, was nominated for president and 10 other women for subordinate offices in the state Federation of Pennsylvania women today.

San Francisco, May 5 (AP)—One of the greatest health problems confronting the American people is that of stopping the "terrible toll of avoidable accidents," American Red Cross delegates were told at their annual convention here today.

The number of persons accidentally killed in this country last year was twice the number of American soldiers killed in the World war, Charles H. Hunt, of Long Beach, California, said in an address prepared for today's general session of the 3,000 delegates.

"This very hour," said Hunt, a past president of the California association of health, physical education and recreation, "over 26,000 people have been seriously injured, 274 are dead and there has been an economic loss of $9,500,000, and this goes on for every hour of the 24-hour day."

DICTATORS TALK ABOUT COLONIES

Rome, May 4 (AP)—Fuehrer Hitler began a week's heavily charged program as Italy's guest today by paying homage to Italy's kings and her unknown soldier, who lies in the vast white Vittorio Emanuele monument in Venezia square.

The Fuehrer laid a wreath at the soldiers' tomb while bands blared and his party saluted. Then they went to Capitoline hill to salute the monument to fallen Fascists.

Premier Mussolini and his guest rode through the streets lined with guards and modest-sized early morning crowds.

The two dictators found two periods in the festive round for man-to-man talk on the purposes of the Nazi-Fascist friendship, and an informed source said their exchange dealt entirely with colonies.

Hitler, who repeatedly has declared Germany's determination to regain her war-lost colonies, was said to have done most of the talking.

Mussolini has described Italy as satisfied with the creation of her empire following the conquest of Ethiopia.

This source said Czechoslovakia Europe's latest trouble center, was not mentioned.

Visit Kings' Tombs

On this morning's round the dictators stopped first at the Pantheon, where are tombs of Kings Vittorio Emanuele II, and Umberto I and his queen.

They were greeted at the entrance by Monsignor Giuseppe Beccaria, chaplain to King Vittorio Emanuele III.

It was Hitler's first encounter with a representative of the church since his arrival in Rome. He joined the Duce in raising a hand in salute.

The Fuehrer deposited wreaths at the tombs of two Italian kings.

The brilliant so-called "Hitler weather" which followed him into Italy Tuesday gave way to chilly rain before the morning round of formalities was completed.

When a Fascist official Tuesday remarked about the lovely "Hitler weather," the Fuehrer replied that it was "no longer Hitler weather—but Hitler and Mussolini weather."

When the two leaders reached Venezia square, from which they ascended the stairs to the monument of the unknown soldier, Fascist formations filling the front half of the square shouted the familiar Fascist cry, "Eia, Eia, Eia, Alala!"

The wreath-laying completed, Hitler and Mussolini faced the formations, which unheated their daggers and sang the Legionnaires' battle hymn. They were loudly applauded.

With the leaders were impressive retinues of Germans and Italians in many-hued uniforms, forming a picturesque background.

Crowds at a distance soon drowned out the applause for the maneuverers with their cries of "Il Duce!"

To Discuss Peace Pact

Hitler, looking pale and grave, raised his right arm again and again in the Nazi salute but never relaxed into a smile.

Mussolini smiled broadly as he and Hitler drove off in a gentle downpour of rain amid more cheering.

Besides colonies Premier Mussolini might sound out his guest on the much talked of five-power pact of peace among Italy, Germany, Britain, France and Poland.

Italy already has entered an agreement with Great Britain and is negotiating with France. Britain's Premier Chamberlain has indicated his hope eventually to bring Germany into a security agreement.

The Fuehrer likely will use the occasion to renew to Italy's premier his assurances Germany is content to let Brenner Pass (gateway between German Austria and Italy) be his frontier, notwithstanding the presence of large numbers of German residents in the Italian Tyrol, which Italy won from old Austria at the end of the World war.

There was speculation also on what the two leaders would decide about Spain.

Spain's Insurgent General Francisco Franco, recognized by Germany and Italy as legal head of Spain, spent greetings Tuesday.

The invention was on exhibition along with an assortment of other new gadgets ranging all the way from non-leak spigots to gold-plated bath tub fittings and mother-of-pearl sink stoppers.

The wrench, which really is a type of Stillson wrench, was designed to aid southpaw plumbers to get into tight corners.

PREPARE DESIGNS FOR 72 NEW U. S. SHIPS

Washington, May 4 (AP)—An augmented force of draftsmen and engineers bent over drawing boards at the Navy department today, preparing designs for the 72 new ships authorized by the billion-dollar naval expansion program.

Their work was laid out for them by the Senate's two-to-one endorsement of the bill Tuesday. The House already had approved the measure, which makes possible the mightiest fleet in the nation's history.

The expansion bill authorizes construction but provides no funds. Informal officials predicted the first request for accompanying appropriations would go to Congress next January.

The Senate vote on the bill was 66 to 20.

deaths. It certainly speaks well for the service that your club is rendering," McNelly declared.

McNelly set up the organization of the local club in 1926 and will remain here for a few weeks to conduct the series of county meetings to which members and non-members are invited. The schedule of the meetings will be announced later.

The directors of the club discussed expansion of activities, service and membership in detail. The decision was to start activities toward enlarging the membership to 1,000 which will make it possible to add several additional services and will assure an increased amount of insurance. A road building program for the county was discussed and the opinion was that several bad highway situations could be improved upon if the county representation in the club was made more general so as to increase its influence.

McNelly addressed the directors and described the services and activities of the national and state AAA organizations from the standpoint of taxation and safety activities. He advised the directors on ways and means in which the services of the local club could be extended.

Interested in Reunion

The board of directors manifested particular interest in the forthcoming celebration of the 75th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg and the final reunion of the Blue and the Gray.

"Unquestionably, we must expand our membership so as to be able to fulfill the requirements of the thousands of A.A.A. visitors who will be in Gettysburg during the reunion and in the next two years en route to the World's Fair," one of the directors pointed out.

"The travel industry in Gettysburg brings $5,000,000 a year to this county and a great portion of this sum finds its way through various channels into agriculture. Roadside fruit stands derive a substantial revenue from tourists and travelers, not to mention the vast volume of farm products that are purchased by restaurants, boarding houses, hotels, camps and the like, all of which account in a substantial manner to the prosperity of the farms in this county."

"Hence, building up the motor club to fulfill its responsibilities to the tourist travel into Gettysburg is an obligation of every motorist in Gettysburg and in the county and we believe that the development of the Gettysburg Motor club is a good business proposition to everyone owning or operating an automobile, from many different angles."

COOK MOURNS PASSING OF HASH-SLINGEE SLANG

Lewistown, Idaho (AP)—George Lee, cook, regrets the serving of food has become such a dignified job that the picturesque slang of the "hasher" is no more. Among the gems that Lee remembers from earlier days are these orders:

Two in the water—two boiled eggs; clean out the icebox—hash; three dogs on a load of hay—three weiners and sauerkraut; jamok—black coffee.

Also, School boy switch—toasted jelly and peanut butter sandwich; Slap her twice and send her out—blood-rare steak; and, Man wants to take a chance—beef stew.

Mail stage-coaches were not introduced into England until 1784.

WAGNER ACT IS CALLED Foe OF BUSINESS PEACE

Washington, May 4 (AP)—William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors corporation, told the United States Chamber of Commerce today that the Wagner labor act is "the largest drawback to good industrial relations."

Discussing the strikes that have tied up his company's plants at various times in recent months, Knudsen said in a prepared address:

"The National Labor relations board set up to administer the act makes no pretense even of paying any attention to the employer's side of the case."

"He can only be heard when he is summoned, and he knows before he goes that there is no record of a single decision where he has had a ghost of a show, so what!"

The automobile manufacturer's speech renewed an attack on the labor board that started Tuesday when Senator Burke (D-Neb.), addressing the labor section of the Chamber of Commerce convention, demanded that the members of the labor board resign. He proposed that a new board be appointed to represent the viewpoints of labor, management and the public.

The labor section then adopted a resolution asking an investigation by Congress of the "effects" and administration of the Wagner act.

A resolution asking amendment of the Wagner Act to require registration of labor organizations was adopted Tuesday night by representatives of seven unaffiliated unions, in session here. Publication of union financing also was asked.

Frank Bow, counsel for the Republic Steel corporation, said the meeting was attended by representatives of employe organizations in Republic Steel, H. J. Heinz company, Duquesne Light and Power, Remington Rand Inc., Jones and Laughlin corporation, Pressed Steel Car company, and National Steel corporation.

Knudsen in his speech, expressed the belief business is not discouraged, "despite all that is said" against it.

Attacks Use of Signs On Highways of State

Pittsburgh, May 4 (AP)—Mrs. John M. Phillips, retiring president, told the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women's convention today that efforts to educate Pennsylvania motorists through the use of highway signboards implies the state has a "super-morose" citizenry.

Reviewing the federation's campaign against "signic highways" in her annual report at the opening of the three-day convention, she said: "Highway laws and penalties for their breaking surely can be impressed upon automobile drivers with the issuance of licenses, and the insistence on rules obeyed rather than by huge highway signs with a painted police officer as a warning."

Officers Nominated

Pittsburgh, May 4 (AP)—Mrs. F. Earle Magee, of Oil City, was nominated for president and 10 other women for subordinate offices in the state Federation of Pennsylvania women today.

The slate of the nominating committee will go into Thursday's election unopposed, making all nominations tantamount to election.

Mrs. A. Dana Stiffell, of Shippensburg, was nominated vice president for the south-central district of Pennsylvania.

SCORES FATAL ACCIDENTS OCCURRING IN HOMES

San Francisco, May 5 (AP)—One of the greatest health problems confronting the American people is that of stopping the "terrible toll of avoidable accidents," American Red Cross delegates were told at their annual convention here today.

The number of persons accidentally killed in this country last year was twice the number of American soldiers killed in the World war, Charles H. Hunt, of Long Beach, California, said in an address prepared for today's general session of the 3,000 delegates.

"This very hour," said Hunt, a past president of the California association of health, physical education and recreation, "over 26,000 people have been seriously injured, 274 are dead and there has been an economic loss of $9,500,000, and this goes on for every hour of the 24-hour day."

DICTATORS TALK ABOUT COLONIES

Rome, May 4 (AP)—Fuehrer Hitler began a week's heavily charged program as Italy's guest today by paying homage to Italy's kings and her unknown soldier, who lies in the vast white Vittorio Emanuel monument in Venezia square.

The Fuehrer laid a wreath at the soldiers' tomb while bands blared and his party saluted. Then they went to Capitoline hill to salute the monument to fallen Fascists.

Premier Mussolini and his guest rode through the streets lined with guards and modest-sized early morning crowds.

The two dictators found two periods in the festive round for man-to-man talk on the purposes of the Nazi-Fascist friendship, and an informed source said their exchange dealt entirely with colonies.

Hitler, who repeatedly has declared Germany's determination to regain her war-lost colonies, was said to have done most of the talking.

Mussolini has described Italy as satisfied with the creation of her empire following the conquest of Ethiopia.

This source said Czechoslovakia Europe's latest trouble center, was not mentioned.

Visit Kings' Tombs

They were greeted at the entrance by Monsignor Giuseppe Beccaria, chaplain to King Vittorio Emanuel III.

It was Hitler's first encounter with a representative of the church since his arrival in Rome. He joined the Duce in raising a hand in salute.

The Fuehrer deposited wreaths at the tombs of two Italian kings.

The brilliant so-called "Hitler weather" which followed him into Italy Tuesday gave way to chilly rain before the morning round of formalities was completed.

When a Fascist official Tuesday remarked about the lovely "Hitler weather," the Fuehrer replied that it was "no longer Hitler weather—but Hitler and Mussolini weather."

When the two leaders reached Venezia square, from which they ascended the stairs to the monument of the unknown soldier, Fascist formations filling the front half of the square shouted the familiar Fascist cry, "Eia, Eia, Eia, Alala!"

The wreath-laying completed, Hitler and Mussolini faced the formations, which unsheathed their daggers and sang the Legionnaires' battle hymn. They were loudly applauded.

With the leaders were impressive retinues of Germans and Italians in many-hued uniforms, forming a picturesque background.

Crowds at a distance soon drowned out the applause for the maneuvers with their cries of "Il Duce!"

To Discuss Peace Pact

Hitler, looking pale and grave, raised his right arm again and again in the Nazi salute but never relaxed into a smile.

Mussolini smiled broadly as he and Hitler drove off in a gentle downpour of rain amid more cheering.

Besides colonies Premier Mussolini might sound out his guest on the much talked of five-power pact of peace among Italy, Germany, Britain, France and Poland.

Italy already has entered an agreement with Great Britain and is negotiating with France. Britain's Premier Chamberlain has indicated his hope eventually to bring Germany into a security agreement.

The Fuehrer likely will use the occasion to renew to Italy's premier his assurances Germany is content to let Brenner Pass (gateway between German Austria and Italy) be his frontier, notwithstanding the presence of large numbers of German residents in the Italian Tyrol, which Italy won from old Austria at the end of the World war.

There was speculation also on what the two leaders would decide about Spain.

Spain's Insurgent General Francisco Franco, recognized by Germany and Italy as legal head of Spain, spent greetings Tuesday.

Designs Left-Handed Wrench for Plumbers

The invention was on exhibition along with an assortment of other new gadgets ranging all the way from non-leak spigots to gold-plated bath tub fittings and mother-of-pearl sink stoppers.

The wrench, which really is a type of Stillson wrench, was designed to add southpaw plumbers to get into tight corners.

With it, says exhibitor C. O. Hollen, a left-hander can grab a length of pipe and twist without having to force his right hand into a difficult position.

This was followed by a regular meeting of the club Monday evening at which time Miss Mildred Adams, county home economics representative, met with the girls and gave a demonstration on "Balanced Breakfasts," the first of a series of lessons on "Food and Health" which the group will take up this year. Last year the group was engaged in the study of sewing. The next meeting will be held at 1:30 Monday afternoon, May 16, at the home of Mrs. Roy Peters, the home group leader. Muffins and other breakfast foods will be the topic for study. # CARDS CHEERED BY PERFORMANCE OF NEW BATTERY

By HUGH S. FULLETON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The old "Gas House Gang" ain't what it used to be. In fact it hardly has recovered from the shock received when its great mouthpiece, Dizzy Dean, was sold up the river to Chicago. But with a flock of new Gas Housers beginning to show promise, the St. Louis Cardinals may have their usual piece to say about the National league pennant race.

Latest to encourage the fans' hope that St. Louis may cause trouble in the National league pennant chase are Lon Warneke, veteran right hander, and the new battery of Bill McGee and Herb Bremer.

Warneke has won his last two starts in fine style. McGee, getting his first trial as a starting pitcher, probably clinched a job as a ball player as well as jug player in Pepper Martin's band when he limited the Boston Bees to six hits and fanned six to outpoint the able Lou Fette, 3 to 2. Bremer, who may fill the Cards' demand for a regular catcher, provided the first two runs with a homer and Don Guttridge made the third the same way.

Homeless Aid Dizzy Dean

Meanwhile Dean, who retired from a game last week with a sore pitching arm, worked his flipper for seven good innings against the Phillies and got credit for Chicago's 5-2 victory. Diz was hit hard and looked tired when he turned over the job to Charley Root, but the Cubs gave him enough support to make up for any shortcomings. Along with expert fielding, Young Joe Marty produced a homer to send Chicago into the lead and old Gabby Hartnett clinched the decision with another.

The victory put the Cubs closer to the top as Cincinnati's Reds brought the New York Giants' 11-game winning streak to an undignified end by licking the league leaders, 10 to 2. While Paul Derringer pitched eight-hit ball, the Reds collected six runs and the game in the fifth when Hal Schumacher found his old-time jinx over Cincinnati no longer was effective.

Brooklyn's star rookie, Forrest Pressnell, handed the Pittsburgh Pirates their fifth straight defeat as the Dodgers manufactured a six-run seventh inning to win, 7-2.

A's Improve Standing

The American league standings were shuffled as Philadelphia's Athletics, whose standing closely resembles that of the Cards, hopped from eighth to sixth place and both the Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees slid past Washington.

With Buck Ross burling five-hit ball and getting the benefit of a six-run outburst in the third, the A's trimmed the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 2. Cleveland's league leaders outlasted the Senators, 10 to 9, as Ken Keltner, rookie third sacker, clouted two homers and a single to drive in six runs.

Old Lefty Grove, who pitches with his head as much as with his arm these days, went ten innings to beat Detroit, 4-3, for his third victory and to become the eighth finger in major league history to register 2,000 strikeouts. He whiffed six and would have had a lot easier time if he hadn't thrown home run balls to Hank Greenberg and Charley Gehringer. Lefty also contributed a sacrifice to the winning score.

Lou Gehrig's first four-ply wallop of the season cheered the New York Yankees' fans and helped beat the St. Louis Browns, 5-1. It came in the four-run first innings. Lou also hit a double and Tommy Henrich tossed in a homer.

State to Save $180,000 On Payments to Mothers

Harrisburg, May 4 (AP).—Pennsylvania's Department of Public Assistance moved today to cut $180,000 a month off its expenses by shifting 16,000 divorced or deserted mothers from the direct relief rolls to a federally-aided agency.

Secretary Arthur W. Howe, Jr., ordered a re-registration of all such relief recipients to place them under the aid of dependent children classification of the assistance program.

Howe explained the saving by pointing out that all direct relief payments are made by the state, while the federal government contributes one-third of the cost in the other class.

Williams Grove Park Will Open on Saturday

Saturday, May 7, will mark the official opening of Williams Grove park, according to an announcement made today by Roy E. Richwine, the park owner.

The opening will be celebrated with a display of fireworks and will feature the fifth annual School Day at which time each school child attending will be allowed seventy-five cents worth of free tickets for park rides and amusements. These tickets may be obtained from school teachers, and will be delivered to any organized group upon request.

In addition to these events the park has planned an extensive entertainment program consisting of a large assortment of vaudeville acts and a full length feature picture in the newly built, enclosed park theater.

SENATE TO BLOCK WAGE BILL IF IT PASSES IN HOUSE

Washington, May 4 (AP).—Senators discussed precautionary strategy today for blocking wage-hour legislation in the event determined administration efforts to force it through the House should prove successful.

The Senate passed a wage-hour bill last summer, but Senators George (D-Ga.) and Smith (D-Sc.) said that since the House measure differs so greatly, it should go to the Senate labor committee instead of directly to a joint conference committee.

That action would delay Senate consideration, and adjournment might intervene.

Across the capitol, House proponents of the legislation renewed their campaign for organized labor's support of their efforts to force the bill to the floor by May 23.

An unofficial steering committee, headed by Representative Healey (D-Mass.), sought the aid of John L. Lewis, C.I.O. leader, in getting the required 218 signatures of House members to a petition to override the House rules committee, which refused last week to give the bill right-of-way.

Healey said William Green, American Federation of Labor president, pledged his organization's full support.

House leaders, although still doubtful whether enough signatures could be obtained, asserted 25 or 30 Republicans could "turn the trick."

Representative Martin (Mass.), the only Republican on the rules committee to support the legislation, predicted a substantial number of his colleagues would sign the petition.

Meanwhile, a House appropriations sub-committee marked time on legislation to carry out President Roosevelt's spending-lending program.

Representative Woodrum (D-Va.) said the measure could not be presented to the House until next Tuesday, although leaders hoped it would pass that chamber by the end of next week.

Woodrum said it still was hoped the House banking committee would approve an amendment authorizing the United States housing authority to undertake additional projects to cost $300,000,000, in time for its inclusion in the omnibus "pump-priming" bill.

EIGHTH OF ACRE YIELDS $137

Baton Rouge, La. (AP).—A return of $137 from an eighth of an acre, making the soil yield at the rate of more than $1,000 an acre, sounds more like some kind of mining operation than farming.

L. E. Hopper, East Baton Rouge parish, did it with tomatoes. He picked one of the hottest months of the year, planted a heat-resistant variety, fertilized well, irrigated his rows, sprayed to keep down insect pests, reaped a bumper harvest and sold it at a fancy price.

PROBE WRITING ON BIRTH PAPER

Penfield, Pa., May 4 (AP).—Court investigators scrutinized today samples of the handwriting of 84-year-old Mrs. Ellen Jane Palmer Sheaffer, who says she is the foster mother of Isaac Newton Sheaffer, claimant of the $200,000,000 Henrietta E. Garrett estate.

The samples, taken Tuesday at a hearing of Mrs. Sheaffer's Delaware county home, were requested by Thomas J. Minnick, Jr., deputy attorney general.

He said he wanted to check his statements that there was a similarity between her handwriting and that on birth records of Isaac Sheaffer in a Lancaster county church.

Isaac Sheaffer, 66-year-old Newark, Delaware, merchant, claims he was born to Mrs. Garrett before her marriage. He offered the church

HERE, sir, is the bright particular star of the automotive year: a car to make you proud and happy—you can prove that anywhere on the highway these bright May days.

In it, you can know luxury in your travels and still not over-strain your budget!

Fact is, you feel like a million just sitting in this Buick!

And you know you're commanding the "tops" in power the first time you give its eager DYNAFLASH engine the gun!

At the wheelyou feel the buoyant steadiness that is TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING'S special gift to motoring—the firm, fleet roadability of a car that's beautifully poised in all its going.

There's no "hop" on this fast one. It doesn't "gallop" or bounce or pitch.

Its soft stout coiled steel springs let the wheels follow the road—rise to the swells, dip to the hollows—yet pass none of that lively up-and-down on to the body.

CARDS CHEERED BY PERFORMANCE OF NEW BATTERY

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The old "Gas House Gang" ain't what it used to be. In fact it hardly has recovered from the shock received when its great mookie, Dizzy Dean, was sold up the river to Chicago. But with a flock of new Gas Houses beginning to show promise, the St. Louis Cardinals may have their usual place to say about the National league pennant race.

Latest to encourage the fans' hope that St. Louis may cause trouble in the National league pennant chase are Lon Warneke, veteran right hander, and the new battery of Bill McGee and Herb Bremer.

Warneke has won his last two starts in fine style. McGee, getting his first trial as a starting pitcher, probably clinched a job as a ball player as well as a pitcher in Pepper Martin's band when he limited the Boston Bees to six hits and fanned six to outpoint the able Lou Fette, 3 to 2. Bremer, who may fill the Cards' demand for a regular catcher, provided the first two runs with a homer and Don Guttridge made the third the same way.

Homers Aid Dizzy Dean
Meanwhile Dean, who retired from a game last week with a sore pitching arm, worked his flipper for seven good innings against the Phillies and got credit for Chicago's 5-2 victory. Diz was hit hard and looked tired when he turned over the job to Charley Root, but the Cubs gave him enough support to make up for any shortcomings. Along with expert fielding, Young Joe Marty produced a homer to send Chicago into the lead and old Gabby Hartnett clinched the decision with another.

The victory put the Cubs closer to the top as Cincinnati's Reds brought the New York Giants' 11-game winning streak to an undignified end by licking the league leaders, 10 to 2. While Paul Derringer pitched eight-hit ball, the Reds collected six runs and the game in the fifth when Hal Schumacher found his old-time jinx over Cincinnati no longer was effective.

Brooklyn's star rookie, Forrest Pressnell, handed the Pittsburgh Pirates their fifth straight defeat as the Dodgers manufactured a six-run seventh inning to win, 7-2.

A's Improve Standing
The American league standings were shuffled as Philadelphia's Athletics, whose standing closely resembles that of the Cards, hopped from eighth to sixth place and both the Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees slid past Washington.

With Buck Ross hurling five-hit ball and getting the benefit of a six-run outburst in the third, the A's trimmed the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 2. Cleveland's league leaders outlasted the Senators, 10 to 9, as Ken Keltner, rookie third sacker, clouted two homers and a single to drive in six runs.

Old Lefty Grove, who pitches with his head as much as with his arm these days, went ten innings to beat Detroit, 4-3, for his third victory and to become the eighth flier in major league history to register 2,000 strikeouts. He whiffed six and would have had a lot easier time if he hadn't thrown home run balls to Hank Greenberg and Charley Gehring. Lefty also contributed a sacrifice to the winning score.

Lou Gehrig's first four-py walloping of the season cheered the New York Yankees' fans and helped beat the St. Louis Browns, 5-1. It came in the four-run first innings. Lou also hit a double and Tommy Henrich tossed in a homer.

THEY OBJECT

"WHAT do you mean—break?" barked Rip, and for the first time Willy Nilly saw how Rip could show his teeth.

"What do you mean—a funny little gnome?" cawed Christopher Columbus Crow. "If you wanted a rest from us—and I can well imagine that at times you must feel like it—then take the offer if you would like to have it that way. Even if you gave me the most terrible punishments in the world or in Puddle Muddle—which you haven't done so far—but even if you did, I'd want you here."

"Without you—oh—oh, caw, caw," and Christopher gave a cawing cough.

"Pardon me," he said, "but I must have swallowed something the wrong way. I'll go up to my nest for a moment." Christopher flew away.

"Then you never feel as though you'd have a better time without me?" asked Willy Nilly.

"How can you, how can you ask such a question?" barked Rip.

Willy Nilly smiled. "Oh, I know how much you always do for me, how you care for me, but sometimes each one of us feels a little blue. The offer rather upset me in a way. It made me think that you might have a rest from me."

"I feel so much better about that now. But would you want to go? How do you all feel about it? That was the way the offer really was made. Do all of you want to act in the movies? You might become known all over the world instead of just among our friends as we are now?"

"I know the answer to that question," cawed Christopher, who had joined them again.

Tomorrow—"Christopher's Answer"

ATTRACTED DUCKS

Pittsburgh, May 4 (AP).—Matt Debrucky went to jail for a day because of a "strange attraction" he has for ducks. A curious policeman found two ducks and a drake in a sack the 60-year-old Debrucky was carrying. The birds followed him around and he was just returning them to their owners when the policeman intervened. Debrucky told Judge Samuel H. Gardner.

THAT STRANGE DULL ACHES

PEOPLE get unhappy, and begin to find fault with each other, only when they get far apart. That's the time when Nations start fighting each other. This quarreling and fighting ends only after each side comes to realize how futile it all is—and how useless.

Then the peace time arrives and both sides get together and the big ache that caused all the damage is gone! For it is a big ache and a strange hunger that cause most unhappiness in this world.

The human heart is forever affected with a strange dull ache. And from a great number of causes. Because of a sense of injustice, or disappointment, or betrayal from some source, or because of the undeserved hurt from a friend.

Or, this ache may come from a disappointment in oneself. How often you hear the sad words—"I wish that I had taken that chance," or "why was I such a fool?" Well, we are all fools at some time or other. We all err and blunder and stub our toes. It is characteristic of us all, whether we live in New York, Halifax, or Rome. This old heart of ours is subject to that strange dull ache, and we might as well take it in good spirit.

I talked with a man from Rio de Janeiro this week. He was intelligent, successful, and interesting—but he finally confided to me the ache that was in his heart. I hope I helped him. One of the best ways to alleviate this sort of ache is to confide and confess to a friend. That is what friends are for.

We may never hope to discover the reason for this hunger, which seems to be our inheritance as human beings, but we can crowd it out with beauty, a love of all in nature, by bringing happiness to others, and by keeping busy at useful tasks.

It is well to keep in mind that no man or woman ever climbed to usefulness and honored heights over a path of roses! That strange dull ache in the human heart is something like the weeds that force their way into every garden—no matter how beautiful.

There is no ache in this world that love can't cure!

If Judith had been harassed and uncertain before she wrote to Reuben, she was swept into an avalanche of bewilderment now.

Had she acted too hastily? Would Reuben be disgusted by her lack of restraint? Had she been too humble? Suppose he didn't answer? Suppose—

Then there was Gary to be reckoned with. Not that she had any illusions about Gary—the last one had died, struggling—but it had died. Gary would be furious because he was not to have his own way, but grieved?

She couldn't associate great distress or deep grief with Gary unless the mishap was physical and purely personal to Gary; however, Gary must be reckoned with.

Jim came down the hall, stood looking at the bedecked pine. "The prettiest tree we've ever had. The kids will adore it."

"Yes," Judith agreed tonelessly.

Jim shot his sister a quick appraising glance. "Want to go with me for crows' foot? They—" he indicated the gilt framed Goodloes', "must be decorated. It's funny a man must die before he gets a wreath of living green." He turned away. "Want to come?"

Judith came down the ladder. "Wait 'til I get a coat."

Outside the world was softly gray, with sharp little gusts of wind and soft little flurries of snow. A day that seemed to proclaim the world was doing its best to make ready for the blessed peace that was to descend upon it at midnight.

Peace! There was none of it in Judith's heart. None in Jim's. Saying little they walked side by side across frozen fields; climbed a rail fence and entered a dim, stark wood. The path ran between hills. There was little wind here. A dry, woodsey smell. Dead rustling leaves—

"Don't you love it, Jim?"

"The place? Better than anything, I guess."

She followed him across the little stream. Thin ice bordered its edges. On a sloping hillside, almost hidden by dead leaves, creeping cedar made a bright green carpet.

Ah—here was a tiny root of bitter-sweet—And suddenly, she was back three years. Was in Fordney's Gulch—the deepest, muddest part of it with Reuben. They were searching for bitter-sweet, pine cones, spruce tassels—anything that would relieve the drabness of their first Christmas in the despoiled little house on Casper Street. The afternoon had been warm, sultry. The ground soft. She had slipped in the red mud and Reuben had caught her, held her close.

'Eat Humble Pie'

Judith's busy fingers tightened around the crows' foot. If just once more she could hear the steady beat of Reuben's heart. Feel his arms—a protecting wall—

An unbidden tear trickled down her nose. Ashamed she brushed it away, looked up quickly to meet Jim's worried, dark eyes.

"You, too, Judy?"

She nodded.

For a long moment they busied themselves with the evergreen; Jim said: "I've made ducks and drakes of my life."

"I've messed mine up, too, Jim."

Another silence. Judith said hesitantly: "Debt again, Jim?"

"Debt again," bitterly.

'Personal!'

"Not entirely. Gran is involved, too. My fault." His slim brown hands became suddenly idle. A shadow darkened his face. "I can't figure it out, yet. That stock deal looked as sound as Gibraltar."

"They always do."

"No." She was looking at him intently, but Gary felt she didn't see him, hadn't heard him. He said: "What's the matter? Losing your nerve—again?"

"No, I was wondering about that timber deal."

"Timber deal? Wake up, Judith. I was speaking of our future. This is no time to bother about timber."

"I just wanted to know if those pines were cut—the ones that caused the trouble between you and Reuben."

"They were cut," grimly. "I put the deal over. Did you think I wouldn't?"

"I was afraid you would."

Something in her voice made him look at her intently. "Afraid?"

"Those trees were unfit."

Sudden searing anger stained Gary's face. "The time has come for you to decide definitely whom you believe—Oliver or me."

"I have decided. Reuben told the truth."

"You take the word of that—that nobody against mine?" He couldn't believe his ears. "You're stark mad, Judith! You're morbid. Upset about going to Reno—"

"I'm not going to Reno."

"Throwing me down?" bantering. He couldn't believe she was serious.

"I'm sorry."

"Sorry?" Rage threatened to choke him. "If you're hoping to go back to Oliver—"

"I am," hating herself for admitting it.

"Snap out of it, darling! Cissy Rogers and Clem are at the Curlew Camp. Cissy told me Reuben was arriving there today, from wherever he's been hiding."

The blood drained from Judith's heart. It was just a numb lump of ice in her chest. Reuben was with Cissy—He didn't care for her; for the babies—

5,000 OF STATE'S LITTLE SCHOOL HOUSES CLOSED

Harrisburg, May 4 (AP).—Pennsylvania is spending more than a million dollars a year to encourage abandonment of "one-room rural schools, in favor of larger consolidated units.

Already about 5,000 "Little Red School Houses"—some teacherless except for a few months of the year—have become mementoes of the state's pioneer days in education.

Another 5,000 are listed for abandonment in the state's consolidation and merger program, Raymond W. Robinson, chief of consolidation in the Department of Public Instruction, disclosed today.

For each one-room school that is vacated, the Commonwealth pays the local school district $200 yearly under an act passed in 1907.

"This may be a perpetual investment," Robinson pointed out. "The law does not specify when we shall stop paying this annual fee to compensate the local school districts for the expense involved in building new schools, transferring pupils and providing transportation."

Mergers already have been approved in three school districts, effective July 1. Thirty-one other mergers of "teacherless" schools are contemplated within this year.

Before November, 1939, said Dr. Donald P. Davis, director of accounting and research, 1,496 school districts employing ten or fewer teachers, will be required to hold referenda to determine whether they will merge their educational facilities.

"By distributing the educational costs over a wider tax base," he declared, "we believe the school can afford a larger administrative force, and equalize the opportunities as between the city and rural schools."

There are more than 6,000 Christian missionaries in India.

THEY OBJECT

"WHAT do you mean—freak?" barked Rip, and for the first time Willy Nilly saw how Rip could show his teeth.

"What do you mean—a funny little gnome?" cawed Christopher Columbus Crow. "If you wanted a rest from us—and I can well imagine that at times you must feel like it—then take the offer if you would like to have it that way. Even if you gave me the most terrible punishments in the world or in Puddle Muddle—which you haven't done so far—but even if you did, I'd want you here."

"Without you—oh—oh, caw, caw, caw," and Christopher gave a cawing cough.

"Pardon me," he said, "but I must have swallowed something the wrong way. I'll go up to my nest for a moment." Christopher flew away.

"Then you never feel as though you'd have a better time without me?" asked Willy Nilly.

"How can you, how can you ask such a question?" barked Rip. Willy Nilly smiled. "Oh, I know how much you always do for me, how you care for me, but sometimes each one of us feels a little blue. The offer rather upset me in a way. It made me think that you might have a rest from me."

"I feel so much better about that now. But would you want to go? How do you all feel about it? That was the way the offer really was made. Do all of you want to act in the movies? You might become known all over the world instead of just among our friends as we are now?"

"I know the answer to that question," cawed Christopher, who had joined them again.

ATTRACTED DUCKS

Pittsburgh, May 4 (AP)—Matt Debrucky went to jail for a day because of a "strange attraction" he has for ducks. A curious policeman found two ducks and a drake in a sack the 60-year-old Debrucky was carrying. The birds followed him around and he was just returning them to their owners when the policeman intended, Debrucky told Judge Samuel H. Gardner.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

PEOPLE get unhappy, and begin to find fault with each other, only when they get far apart. That's the time when Nations start fighting each other. This quarreling and fighting ends only after each side comes to realize how futile it all is—and how useless.

Then the peace time arrives and both sides get together and the big ache that caused all the damage is gone! For it is a big ache and a strange hunger that cause most unhappiness in this world. The human heart is forever affected with a strange dull ache. And from a great number of causes. Because of a sense of injustice, or disappointment, or betrayal from some source, or because of the undeserved hurt from a friend.

Or this ache may come from a disappointment in oneself. How often you hear the sad words—"I wish that I had taken that chance," or "why was I such a fool?" Well, we are all fools at some time or other. We all err and blunder and stub our toes. It is characteristic of us all, whether we live in New York, Halifax, or Rome. This old heart of ours is subject to that strange dull ache, and we might as well take it in good spirit.

I talked with a man from Rio de Janeiro this week. He was intelligent, successful, and interesting—but he finally confided to me the ache that was in his heart. I hope I helped him. One of the best ways to alleviate this sort of ache is to confide and confess to a friend. That is what friends are for.

We may never hope to discover the reason for this hunger, which seems to be our inheritance as human beings, but we can crowd it out with beauty, a love of all in nature, by bringing happiness to others, and by keeping busy at useful tasks.

It is well to keep in mind that no man or woman ever climbed to usefulness and honored heights over a path of roses! That strange dull ache in the human heart is something like the weeds that force their way into every garden—no matter how beautiful.

There is no ache in this world that love can't cure!

Chapter 44

Just One More Chance
If Judith had been harassed and uncertain before she wrote to Reuben, she was swept into an avalanche of bewilderment now. Had she acted too hastily? Would Reuben be disgusted by her lack of restraint? Had she been too humble? Suppose he didn't answer? Suppose—

Then there was Gary to be reckoned with. Not that she had any illusions about Gary—the last one had died, struggling—but it had died. Gary would be furious because he was not to have his own way, but grieved?

She couldn't associate Gary distress or deep grief with Gary unless the mishap was physical and purely personal to Gary; however, Gary must be reckoned with.

Jim came down the hall, stood looking at the bedecked pine. "The prettiest tree we've ever had. The kids will adore it."

"Yes," Judith agreed tonelessly. Jim shot his sister a quick appraising glance: "Want to go with me for crows' foot? They—" he indicated the gilt framed Good-loes, "must be decorated. It's funny a man must die before he gets a wreath of living green." He turned away. "Want to come?"

Judith came down the ladder. "Wait 'til I get a coat." Outside the world was softly gray, with sharp little gusts of wind and soft little flurries of snow. A day that seemed to proclaim the world was doing its best to make ready for the blessed peace that was to descend upon it at midnight.

Peace! There was none of it in Judith's heart. None in Jim's. Saying little they walked side by side across frozen fields; climbed a rail fence and entered a dim, stark wood. The path ran between hills. There was little wind here. A dry, woodsey smell. Dead rustling leaves—

"Don't you love it, Jim?"

"The place? Better than anything, I guess."

She followed him across the little stream. Thin ice bordered its edges. On a sloping hillside, almost hidden by dead leaves, creeping cedar made a bright green carpet.

Ah—here was a tiny root of bitter-sweet—And suddenly, she was back three years. Was in Fordney's Gulch—the deepest, muddiest part of it with Reuben. They were searching for bitter-sweet, pine cones, spruce tassels—anything that would relieve the drabness of their first Christmas in the despoiled little house on Casper Street. The afternoon had been warm, sultry. The ground soft. She had slipped in the red mud and Reuben had caught her, held her close.

'Eat Humble Pie'
Judith's busy fingers tightened around the crows' foot. If just once more she could hear the steady beat of Reuben's heart. Feel his arms—an protecting wall—

An unbidden tear trickled down her nose. Ashamed she brushed it away, looked up quickly to meet Jim's worried, dark eyes.

"You, too, Judy?"

She nodded.

For a long moment they busied themselves with the evergreen; Jim said: "I've made ducks and drakes of my life."

"I've messed mine up, too, Jim." Another silence. Judith said hesitantly: "Debt again, Jim?"

"Debt again," bitterly.

"Personal?"

"Not entirely. Gran is involved, too. My fault." His slim brown hands became suddenly idle. A shadow darkened his face. "I can't figure it out, yet. That stock deal looked as sound as Gibraltar."

"They always do."

"I've learned my lesson, Judy. If I could only have one more chance."

"They were cut," grimly. "I put the deal over. Did you think I wouldn't?"

"I was afraid you would." Something in her voice made him look at her intently. "Afraid?"

"I have decided. Reuben told the truth."

"You take the word of that—that nobody against mine?" He couldn't believe his ears. "You're stark mad, Judith! You're morbid. Upset about going to Reno—"

"I'm not going to Reno."

"Throwing me down?" banteringly. He couldn't believe she was serious.

"I'm sorry." "Sorry?" Rage threatened to choke him. "If you're hoping to go back to Oliver—"

"I am," hating herself for admitting it.

"Snap out of it, darling! Cissy Rogers and Clem are at the Curtis Camp. Cissy told me Reuben was arriving there today, from wherever he's been hiding."

The blood drained from Judith's heart. It was just a numb lump of ice in her chest. Reuben was with Cissy—He didn't care for her; for the babies—

5,000 OF STATE'S LITTLE SCHOOL HOUSES CLOSED

Harrisburg, May 4 (AP)—Pennsylvania is spending more than a million dollars a year to encourage abandonment of "one-room rural schools, in favor of larger consolidated units.

Already about 5,000 "Little Red School Houses"—some teacherless except for a few months of the year—have become mementoes of the state's pioneer days in education.

Another 5,000 are listed for abandonment in the state's consolidation and merger program, Raymond W. Robinson, chief of consolidation in the Department of Public Instruction, disclosed today.

For each one-room school that is vacated, the Commonwealth pays the local school district $200 yearly under an act passed in 1907.

"This may be a perpetual investment," Robinson pointed out. "The law does not specify when we shall stop paying this annual fee to compensate the local school districts for the expense involved in building new schools, transferring pupils and providing transportation."

Mergers already have been approved in three school districts, effective July 1. Thirty-one other mergers of "teacherless" schools are contemplated within this year.

Before November, 1939, said Dr. Donald P. Davis, director of accounting and research, 1,496 school districts employing ten or fewer teachers, will be required to hold referenda to determine whether they will merge their educational facilities.

"By distributing the educational costs over a wider tax base," he declared, "we believe the school can afford a larger administrative force, and equalize the opportunities as between the city and rural schools."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning! to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk. A mere blood purifier doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 26c. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

Mr. Prospective USED CAR BUYER

Just A Bit Of First-Hand Information About Used Cars—

If you contemplate buying a used car, it is to your advantage to go where the selection is the largest. I believe you will agree on that. If you expect to save money on your used car purchase, you will cause the dealer as little trouble as possible, as after all he must take all of that into consideration.

The greatest allowance for your old car is not necessarily the best deal. The first thing to consider is how much you are willing to spend and where you can get the greatest value for that amount. Give us a chance to prove to you the above statements.

We have more than 150 used cars to select from—all cars have been reconditioned and are sold with a money-back guarantee. That means, if you are not satisfied with your purchase after driving it for several days, you are at liberty to return same and receive every dollar you paid for the car you purchased. You are under no obligation to make another deal, nothing could be more fair.

New Buick cars are receiving greater public acceptance than any other competitive automobile in its price class, nearly 25% of the people who spend more than the price of the three lowest priced cars, are purchasing Buicks. This in itself is very conclusive evidence that Buick must be the "hot line" for 1938. This enables us to make better trade-ins and offer these cars for less money. Prove this to yourself by visiting Pennsylvania's Largest Used Car Lot—Open 24 hours a day—7 days a week. You will receive courteous treatment. Have your car appraised, you will be under no obligations and we assure you we will not even bother you if you are not interested in our proposition.

Never in the history of the car business have we had such extraordinary values in used cars, and never in the history of the MILLER-BUICK, INC., have we enjoyed better business in new cars.

We have increased our sales this year 25% more than any previous year we have been in business. This is contrary to all other car sales.

Again we invite you to one of the largest and finest Used Car Lots in this part of the country and you can save money by buying off the lot.

All cars for the entire month, or at least until we have reduced our stock considerably, we will offer at a reduction of 10% to 30% of what we consider market value for cars such as we have in this territory.
